

Travel to Iceland

The trip took four days for the European project ECOJOB it brought together several nationalities: English, Icelandic, Finnish and French. It happened in the capital Reykjavik and campaigns environmental.

The teachers who accompanied us were: Mr Parmentier, Mr Gautier and Mr Auriel

The image consists of a solid blue background with a prominent red cross centered on it. The cross is formed by two thick red bars, one horizontal and one vertical, intersecting at the center. Each of the four quadrants created by the cross is a solid blue square. In the top-right quadrant, the word "Sunday" is written in a large, black, sans-serif font. The text is positioned in the upper right area of the blue square, leaving some space from the right and top edges.

Sunday

We were to meet at 11:15 at Roissy-Charles-De-Gaulle, to find our teachers who have passed the formalities (enregistrment baggage checks of identity documents, checks bags that we have placed in the cabin) and was embarkation to 12:40.

We took off at 15:40 so we waited 3 hours on the plane because the track was not dégachée. After 2 hours we arrived here in Iceland, we descend from the plane, going to collect our luggage and then took a bus that dropped us off at the hostel.

Here is our hostel finally our room

The background of the image is the flag of Norway, which consists of a red field with a white Scandinavian cross. The cross is formed by a vertical bar and a horizontal bar, both of which are white with a thin red border. The four quadrants of the flag are blue.

Monday

Monday morning, we visited a museum of volcanoes, we saw a video about the eruptions of the volcanoes

Monday afternoon, we had for do our shopping district.

Tuesday

Tuesday morning, we found the English, Finnish and Icelandic. Then we were visiting a geothermal plant.

Tuesday afternoon, we visited the greenhouses of the University, where they produce bananas and tomatoes.

The background of the image is the flag of the Kingdom of Denmark, known as the Dannebrog. It features a white Scandinavian cross with a red border on a blue field. The word "Wednesday" is written across the center of the cross.

Wednesday

Wednesday morning, we took a flower arranging workshop. We had to make a bed for birds as the only constraint used natural materials. After this activity, we have presented our project (the hedge jalonée).

Wednesday afternoon we went to the pool in the hot water bath
44 ° C

Thursday

Thursday morning, lifted 4 hours to return to France. We leave Iceland with lots of beautiful scenery in mind, and full of good times past.
